SUBJECT: Proclamation declaring April 12-18, 2004 National Community Development Week

CITY OF LOMA LINDA, CA

PROCLAMATION

"NATIONAL COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT WEEK 2004"

APRIL 12 - 18, 2004

WHEREAS, National Community Development Week provides local governments the opportunity to recognize the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program and how it provides local governments with the resources required to address the physical, economic, and human services needs of low and moderate income citizens, and

WHEREAS, since its inception in 1975, the CDBG Program has continued to assume increasing importance as an instrument for meeting pressing community development needs in affordable housing, job creation and retention, human services, capital improvements, and public infrastructure; and

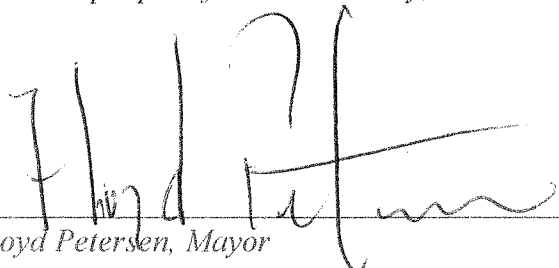

WHEREAS, local governments have clearly demonstrated the capacity to administer and customize the CDBG program to identify and resolve pressing local problems; and

WHEREAS, with its diversity of Program design and administration, the nature of the Community Development Block Grant Program and its ability to respond to locally determined priorities has caused Congress and the nation to appreciate the critical value of the Program and the significant number of non-profit organizations, programs and projects that rely on its funds for support;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Floyd Petersen, Mayor of the City of Loma Linda, on behalf of the entire City Council, do hereby proclaim the week of April 12 - 18

in the City of Loma Linda and urge all citizens to join the Nation in recognizing the outstanding work being accomplished locally and nationally by the Community Development Block Grant Program and the importance of this Program to the people of our community, San Bernardino County and the Nation.

Floyd Petersen, Mayor
